How to Revise Latin GCSE

Resources prepared for you

- Go to Q Drive – GCSE Latin
  Here you will find:
  Latin Language – revision sheets, some past papers and markschemes
  Literature – the full set of texts and their translations
  Roman Civ – information on gladiators, baths, etc, plus the resources booklets – the Eduqas entertainment and leisure booklet, and also the old style L1 booklet
- Remember to revise the Literature texts in Latin alongside the English translations
- Make sure you know exactly what happens in each text, how the author feels, and why they might be writing what they are writing
- For Roman Civ you need to know the facts about each of the topics – The Baths, Gladiators, Theatre, Recitationes and Dining. Don’t get theatre and recitationes mixed up, nor the different types of theatre
- For Language you need to revise verb endings for the 4 tenses, the important little words, the list of common and false friend infinitives, and the difference between nominative and accusative nouns in particular

Flashcards
Create flashcards with vocabulary in English on one side and Latin on the other. You can use them to test yourself or ask others to test you. YouTube has tips for using flashcards. Quizlet has flashcards on sets of vocabulary, as has Memrise.

Deliberate practice

- Set aside a little time each day for dedicated vocabulary and grammar practice. Use your revision guides and workbooks for support with this.
- Spend your time wisely – on areas you are less confident on, NOT on what you already know.

Interleaving

- Do not attempt to revise everything all at once! It should be spaced out over days and weeks.
- Create a revision timetable where you go through all topics/texts and review ones you are less confident on more frequently.

Useful Websites

- The GCSE Specification
  https://www.eduqas.co.uk/qualifications/latin/
- Cambridge Latin Course
  https://www.clc.cambridgescp.com/online-activities
- Quizlet
- Memrise
How to Revise Latin GCSE

Resources prepared for you

- Go to Q Drive – GCSE Latin
  Here you will find:
  Latin Language – revision sheets, some past papers and mark schemes
  Literature – the full set of texts and their translations
  Roman Civ – information on gladiators, baths, etc, plus the resources booklets – the Eduqas entertainment and leisure booklet, and also the old style L1 booklet
- Remember to revise the Literature texts in Latin alongside the English translations
- Make sure you know exactly what happens in each text, how the author feels, and why they might be writing what they are writing
- For Roman Civ you need to know the facts about each of the topics – The Baths, Gladiators, Theatre, Recitationes and Dining. Don’t get theatre and recitationes mixed up, nor the different types of theatre
- For Language you need to revise verb endings for the 4 tenses, the important little words, the list of common and false friend infinitives, and the difference between nominative and accusative nouns in particular

Flashcards
Create flashcards with vocabulary in English on one side and Latin on the other. You can use them to test yourself or ask others to test you. YouTube has tips for using flashcards. Quizlet has flashcards on sets of vocabulary, as has Memrise.

Deliberate practice
- Set aside a little time each day for dedicated vocabulary and grammar practice. Use your revision guides and workbooks for support with this.
- Spend your time wisely – on areas you are less confident on, NOT on what you already know.

Interleaving
- Do not attempt to revise everything all at once! It should be spaced out over days and weeks.
- Create a revision timetable where you go through all topics/texts and review ones you are less confident on more frequently.

Useful Websites

- The GCSE Specification
  https://www.eduqas.co.uk/qualifications/latin/
- Cambridge Latin Course
  https://www.clc.cambridgescp.com/online-activities
- Quizlet
- Memrise